

CAROLINA LOSES
TO A. & M. FARMERSState University Defeated by Aggies in Close and Hard-Fought Contest.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Raleigh, N. C., April 30.—In one of the most exciting games of the season A. and M. defeated the University of North Carolina to-day by the score of 7 to 6. Aycock started twirling for Carolina, but only lasted one inning, and was relieved by Craven after the Techs had scored five runs. In the fourth A. and M. made one more run on an error and a hit. In the fourth Carolina made her first run on a pass and two errors. Russell had the visitors at his mercy until the seventh inning, when they made their runs on three singles, an error and a double. In the ninth Carolina tied the score on a hit batsman and three hits, but the Techs came back strong in their half of the ninth, bringing across the winning run, with one man down on two singles and a sacrifice. The score:

MEDIocre RACING
IS GIVEN CROWD

Lexington, Va., April 30.—Mediocre racing obtained at the Kentucky Association track to-day, selling plates furnishing the sport in the majority of the races. The headliner was a mile-dash for three-year-olds, in which a field of but three horses was engaged. This was won by Flying Tom with Weyanoke second and Stronuous third. The winner was made the medium of the only plunge recorded during the afternoon, and Sheriff Dan Scott, a local politician, is said to have cleaned up a small fortune on his colt's victory.

Upsets of form were the usual thing, and as a result the talent experienced anything but a prosperous time of it. Probably the greatest disappointment came when Free Trade finished absolutely last. Helios, second choice for the forthcoming Kentucky Derby, felt ill this morning, and in all probability will be declared out of the Kentucky classic.

M'REAVY TO LEAD
MIDDIES' FIVE

Annapolis, Md., April 30.—Clarence J. McReavy, of the State of Washington, was to-day named as captain of the Naval Academy basketball team. He is centre of the five.

Danville School Loses.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Danville, Va., April 30.—Cluster Springs Academy to-day defeated the Danville School for Boys by the decisive score of 10 to 2. The game was rather loosely played, but full of interest. In the fourth a home run, coupled with errors, netted the academy six runs. The errors of the Danville boys were numerous and costly. Chapman, for Cluster, was in good form, and showed ability to pull himself out of tight places. Kidd and Martin each walked away with a home run.

Batteries: Danville School for Boys, Farley and Holten; Cluster Springs Academy, Chapman and Kidd.

ACADEMY LOSES TO BLACKSTONE

Blackstone, Va., April 30.—The Blackstone High School lowered Richmond Academy's colors here to-day. Doc Cobb pitched airtight ball for Blackstone. The score was 5 to 3. Wood, for Richmond, was touched for ten hits, while Cobb allowed only two hits and struck out fifteen men. The batting of Epes was fine, making three hits out of four trips to the plate. Captain Pitt was easily the star for Richmond, and his playing at short was of high order. Score:

AMUSEMENTS.

Academy—Lucille La Verne Company in "A Woman's Way."
Billou—"Judy Izzy," matinee and night.

Colonial—Vaudeville.
Empire—Miniature Musical Comedy.
Orpheum—Tabloid Musical Comedy.
Little Theatre—Pictures.

Catherine Carter Joins Company.
Following Miss La Verne's announcement on Monday night, one of the most popular of all this stock players that Richmond has known, Catherine Carter, joined the company at the Academy of Music last night, and watched the performance of "A Woman's Way" from the front.

Although Miss Carter will not appear until the week after next, she will immediately begin to study her part in that week's bill, which, by the way, is to be "Lady Windermere's Fan," one of Oscar Wilde's most brilliant plays.
W. D. G.

Old Confederates at Auditorium.
The "Two Old Confederates," Polk Miller and Colonel Tom Booker, will be the central figures at the Old Confederate entertainment to be held in the City Auditorium to-night.

Mr. Miller is conceded to be the best delineator of the old-time Southern dandy that has ever appeared upon the stage.

His rendition of old plantation songs, his anecdotes of boyhood days and his conversations with Colonel Booker, are both appealing and amusing. Many an old Southerner will be taken back to the time before the war, and to the younger generation the entertainment will present a picture true to the life in the ante-bellum days.

Mr. Miller will also present his famous "Old South Quartet"—four colored men who faithfully reproduce the old plantation dandies. They do not attempt a crude imitation such as that usually seen upon the stage or to-day. They know the life and they dress, act and sing the part to perfection. Their old plantation melodies will bring fond memories to many in the audience. Their voices, though unutilized, are sweet and pure and they have the natural musical talent of the colored race. Their part of the entertainment will be not the least of the evening's pleasure.

The dancing of the Virginia Reel will be a feature. In this generation, when the turkey trot, the bunny hug and such other absurd dances hold the popular fancy, the graceful old reel has almost been forgotten. Indeed, Mr. Miller experienced some difficulty in familiarizing young men and women with the dance, as it is his intention that the Virginia Reel shall be presented to-night just as it was known fifty years ago.

The entertainment is for the benefit of R. E. Lee Camp, No. 1, Confederate Veterans, and it is expected that the camp will turn out to a man. Every other old soldier within convenient distance will doubtless be on hand and the popularity of the old-time songs and the general public gives promise of a crowded house.

Tars Play Colts To-Day
Charlie Shaffer and his Tars will be the attraction at the local yard this afternoon. There is no absolute method of determining just whom Shaffer will select as a target for the Colt gammen, but the probability is that Shaffer, who started twice and finished once against the Gobblers, will be the first offering. Following the logical sequence, Steve Griffin will select either Harvey Bussey or Smallwood, with Smallwood as the favorite because of the fact that he is supposed to work best before home crowds.

Griffin returns with two games won out of two games played. In this record he leads every other manager in the league. He is now tied for first place with Richmond at the head of the column in Richmond papers and Richmond second in the column in all self-respecting Roanoke papers. The personal following of Shaffer will insure crowds at all three of the games. Richmond wants this series and wants it badly. Steve will try to deliver.

GORDON LANDS IN RICH STAKE RACE

J. L. Holland's Horse, Showing
Brilliant Speed, Leads Field in Perryville Event.

Baltimore, Md., April 30.—Showing brilliant speed the entire distance of four and a half furlongs, Gordon, belonging to J. L. Holland and ridden by Little Wilson, easily won the Perryville selling stakes, valued at $1,000, at Haver, two-year-olds, 4 1-2 furlongs, who ran second all the way and who was taken under slight restraint as soon as the barrier went up, and joked with the field the rest of the way, to win by two lengths from Mordecai, who ran second all the way and who had to be ridden out to save the place from Preston Lynn, who closed stoutly. Gordon ran the distance in 54.4-5 seconds.
